BETTER EVERYDAY ATHLETICS

TOPIC 02 · STAFF TRAINING

INCLUSIVE COACHING METHODS FOR YOUR TEAM

James Anderson, CSCS · Speaker · Inclusive fitness coach · Author of Legacy of Health

THE TALK

A working session for behavioral and physical health teams. James shares the methods he uses with his own clients, drawing on his strength and conditioning certification and his background as a Registered Behavior Technician, so your staff can add inclusive movement to the care they already give.

WHAT YOUR AUDIENCE TAKES AWAY

- How James adapts exercises in real time to each person's abilities and goals
- Behavioral strategies that keep clients motivated and engaged in movement
- How to work alongside parents, caregivers and support staff

ABOUT JAMES

James Anderson is an NSCA Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist, a former Registered Behavior Technician and the author of Legacy of Health. His work with the Special Olympics of Colorado and his background in behavioral therapy give him a rare depth of understanding when it comes to motivation, adaptation and personal growth.

BEST FOR

Behavioral health and ABA providers · physical and occupational therapy teams · residential and day program staff

FORMATS

- Keynotes and commencement addresses
- Staff training and workshops on his inclusive coaching methods
- Hands-on movement demonstrations
- Conference breakout sessions
- Virtual talks and trainings
- Panels, podcasts and media interviews

AVAILABILITY

In person or virtual. National, virtual and co-op events are welcome.

INVITE JAMES TO SPEAK

speaking@bettereverydayathletics.com
(303) 579-7350