BETTER EVERYDAY ATHLETICS

TOPIC 03 · KEYNOTE

PURPOSE OVER PAYCHECK

James Anderson, CSCS · Speaker · Inclusive fitness coach · Author of Legacy of Health

THE TALK

A commencement-style message about choosing a life with meaning. James talks about finding the work you were made for, following your passion even when it is not the easy path, and measuring success by the people you serve rather than the money you make.

WHAT YOUR AUDIENCE TAKES AWAY

- How to recognize the work you were made for
- Why following your passion is worth it, even when it is not the easy path
- How to measure success by the people you serve, not the money you make

ABOUT JAMES

James Anderson is an NSCA Certified Strength & Conditioning Specialist, a former Registered Behavior Technician and the author of Legacy of Health. His work with the Special Olympics of Colorado and his background in behavioral therapy give him a rare depth of understanding when it comes to motivation, adaptation and personal growth.

BEST FOR

High school graduations · colleges and universities · youth leadership programs

FORMATS

- Keynotes and commencement addresses
- Staff training and workshops on his inclusive coaching methods
- Hands-on movement demonstrations
- Conference breakout sessions
- Virtual talks and trainings
- Panels, podcasts and media interviews

AVAILABILITY

In person or virtual. National, virtual and co-op events are welcome.

INVITE JAMES TO SPEAK

speaking@bettereverydayathletics.com
(303) 579-7350